Mulligan's Golf Center

A Harrisonburg business that's been around for 20 years just got a major face-lift that's been just under a year in the making.

Over the last eight months, Mulligan's Golf Center has added an in-house restaurant, a 2,500 sq. foot pro shop, and a double-decker driving range.

Players can use radar technology to track statistics like ball speed or direction, or virtually play courses from all over the world.

Mulligan's is also home to a miniature golf course and White says the ultimate goal is to make Mulligan's a place where golfers of any ability can play.
